THIS TARGET INSPIRES MARKSMANSHIP

American officers in France have found the men so eager to shoot up Fritz that the best results at target practice are obtained when targets like the one in the picture are used. The drawing of the Hun is the work of a poilu.

PRESIDENT SIGNS THE R. R. BILL

Transportation Lines of the Nation Are Now Under Federal Control Until After the War.

By Associated Press Dispatch, Washington, March 21.—President Wilson today signed the bill bringing railroads under government operation and control until 21 months after the end of the war.

President Wilson's signature to the bill for government operation of railroads until twenty-one months after the war completes the plan for the greatest undertaking in government control of privately owned public utilities the war has brought to America.

Early in August, 1916, the war cloud was growing ominous, so an act was passed empowering the President, through the Secretary of War, to take control of and utilize all systems of transportation in a national emergency. President Wilson employed this authority on December 28, 1917, taking possession of the lines and appointing Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo director general of Railroads.

Engaged in a war requiring every bit of national effort to insure success, the President believed it was imperative that the government direct all operations so that adequate means might be had to expedite troop movement, move war supplies, and care for the general abnormal strain on the transportation system.

The flow of khaki-clad men had to proceed to the ports of embarkation without interruption; shells, cartridges and rifles had to be moved from munitions centers; foodstuffs had to be transferred from the granaries of the West, and ample provision had to be made for the output of the mines. In addition to military needs, the country had experienced during the winter of 1917 the greatest breakdown and congestion of the transportation system ever known.

At a stroke of the President's pen the roads came under federal administration. Property rights were not purchased—the government merely exercised its authority to operate the lines and provision was made for safeguarding the proprietary interests of investors.

The engagement occurred off Dunkirk this morning. The British casualties were slight, while there were no French casualties.

U. S. TROOPS AGAIN RAID TUETON LINES

Succeed in Penetrating the Enemy Trenches for Some Distance.

(Associated Press Cable) With the American Army in France, March 20.—(Associated Press)—American troops in the sector east of Lunerville participated tonight in a raid on German trenches, penetrating the German lines for some distance.

The raiders returned to the American line after 40 minutes. Further details are unavailable at this hour, 10:00 p. m.

The raid was carried out in conjunction with French troops, after a brief but intense barrage. The Germans retaliated with heavy fire of gas and high explosives.

AMERICAN WOMEN PHYSICIANS WILL SOON GO ABROAD

Many of the physicians are specialists in tuberculosis.

BY BIG VOTE

By Associated Press Dispatch, Washington, March 21.—The Administration bill to establish a war finance corporation was passed by the House today 369 to 2.

SHORTLY BEFORE DAWN THIS MORNING THE TEUTON ARTILLERY OPENED THE HEAVIEST FIRE OF THE WAR SOUTH OF ST. QUENTIN.

SOUND OF GUNS COULD BE HEARD DISTINCTLY AT DOVER AND OTHER ENGLISH COAST TOWNS

DOORS AND WINDOWS IN DOVER SHACKEN CONTINUOUSLY BY THE HEAVY CONCUSSION

ALLIED COMMANDERS NOT SURE MUCH TALKED OF ATTACK IS REALLY ON IN THAT SECTOR.

MAY BE LAUNCHED TO COVER OFFENSIVE PLANNED FOR ANOTHER SECTOR.

London, March 21.—(Associated Press Cable)—The Germans, shortly before dawn this morning, began a heavy bombardment over a wide section of the British front from the neighborhood of Vendeuil, south of St. Quentin, to the River Scarpe, it is announced officially.

The artillery action could be heard distinctly at Dover and other towns on the east coast of England. The doors and windows of the houses at Dover were shaken continuously by the heavy concussion.

The firing which was the heaviest that has ever been heard in this district from such a distance began at three o'clock this morning and lasted at brief intervals until 7:00 a. m.

From Vendeuil north to the River Scarpe is a distance of nearly 50 miles and the beginning by the German artillery of a heavy bombardment along this wide front may mean that preparations for the much advertised German offensive in the west have been begun. The preparatory work was about due to begin today, if the advance announcements were to be taken at their face value, judging from the reports recently that a part of neutral correspondents had been invited by the German high command to start for the west front on Wednesday to witness the offensive.

It is impossible to say whether the present burst of artillery fire means it is along the line indicated or somewhere within its limits that the heavy German blow, if one indeed is coming, is to be struck. There is the consideration that the bombardment in this particular area may be the means of covering a stroke in an altogether different sector.

This area embraces most of the territory outside of Flanders over which the British have been fighting for two years. It takes the entire field of the battle of the Somme, fought in the fall of 1916, and the great part of the area evacuated by the Germans the following spring.

Fighting in these limits also is the battlefield of Cambrai. Virtually all of the territory fought over in the battle of Arras also lies in the area under bombardment.

DECISIVE MOMENT OF THE WAR

London, March 21.—(Associated Press Cable)—"We are at the decisive moment of the war and one of the greatest moments in German history," said Emperor William in a telegram to the Rheinisch Provincial Council, according to an Amsterdam dispatch.

INTENSE AND SUSTAINED BOMBARDMENT IN OTHER SECTORS. GERMANS ARE DRIVEN BACK. HEAVY LOSS SUSTAINED BY ENEMY.

Paris, March 21.—(Associated Press Cable)—There has been an intense and sustained bombardment of the sectors north and southeast of Rheims, as well as on the Champagne front, the war office announced today.

At one point on the Verdun front the Germans were driven back in violent hand to hand fighting.

In Lorraine the Germans suffered a complete defeat in the region of Nomeny, sustaining heavy losses without attaining any success.

IT MAY HERALD BIG OFFENSIVE WASHINGTON IS YET IN DOUBT

By Associated Press Dispatch, Washington, Mar. 21.—The intensive German bombardment on a 50 miles front in France may herald the opening of the much talked of German offensive, just when official doubt had been cast on its probability by the War Department.

Army officers consider the dispatches too meagre to establish clearly the actual purpose or scope of the German effort and it was regarded as possible the cannonade might be intended to cover up some other movement.

Officers here are still of the opinion that the German high command is not prepared to risk a great adventure in the west at this time, the eastern theater now being too favorable for less costly enterprises.

In some quarters it is believed possible the bombardment may forecast a new peace offer based on compromise proposals that would leave Germany free to act in Russia while offering concessions in the west.

In others it is suggested the Germans were seeking to prevent impending allied drives by attacking to force a breaking up of concentration.

BERLIN'S VIEWS

(By Associated Press Cable) Berlin, via London, March 21.—The artillery battle began again in full force along broad stretches of the western battle front this morning, it was announced today.

THE SEIZURE OF THE DUTCH SHIPS REDUCE NET LOSSES

Shipping Taken Over by the Allies Aggregates Million Tons.

By Associated Press Dispatch, Seizure of Dutch vessels by the United States and Great Britain and their use for allied purposes reduce materially the net allied loss due to German submarines and mines since the beginning of the war.

A British government statement, issued at Washington today gives the gross loss up to January 1, 1918, as 11,827,572 tons and the net loss as 2,632,297 tons.

The Dutch shipping taken over by the allies aggregates 1,000,000 tons.

To make up the deficiency in world tonnage, caused by German ruthlessness on the seas, 6,606,275 tons of new ships were built in allied and neutral countries since the beginning of the war, and 2,539,000 tons of German and Austrian ships were seized by allied countries.

The net loss is reduced further by the Dutch vessels which generally have been idle in allied ports in fear of German submarines.

In his final day with the American army Secretary Baker visited the Verdun front and rode in an automobile for more than 100 miles from Verdun to the American general headquarters in France.

COMMANDERS SURRENDER BUT PROTEST

By Associated Press Dispatch, New York, March 21.—Commanders of Dutch ships seized here today are understood to have relinquished their command under protest recorded in the ship logs.

While officials of the Holland-American line had not received word at noon from the various Dutch captains that the formality of the seizure had been completed, they said that entering of protest with the American officers taking command was to have been a part of the formality on the side of the captains.

WIL NOT PUSH CASE

By Associated Press Dispatch, Cleveland, O., March 21.—Elmer Hupp, wealthy oil operator, recently acquitted of the murder of Chas. L. Joyce, has not definitely decided to push the divorce suit against Mrs. Ethel Hupp, it was learned today. He has been in Akron, leaving there today for the west where he will attend to his oil business.

EVERY BOY IN HIGH SCHOOL TO ENROLL AND AID COUNTRY

Indications Are Washington High School Will be 100 Per Cent Patriotic in Filling Ranks of U. S. Boys' Reserve.

The enrollment of the boys in the Washington high school, between the ages of 16 and 21 in the Boys' Working Reserve was started Wednesday. There are 68 boys in the high school and all of them have signified their intention of registering.

The registration is not compulsory, neither is a boy forced to take the position offered him by the labor department, although a boy is honor bound to take it, provided he is not otherwise employed or by some other reason is incapacitated from doing so.

Boys may enroll for one of three positions. They are industrial, agricultural or vocational. Most of the high school students are expected to enroll for agricultural work.

As soon as a boy registers he is given a button which shows he is a member of the working reserve. After he has worked six weeks in agricultural work, or eight weeks in industrial work, or demonstrated, he is given a beautiful bronze badge.

The registration and employment is a chance for all boys within the age limits to show their patriotism and do their bit.

Last year in this country there were 5,000,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 21 and only 2,000,000 were producers. This does not mean that the other fellows were loafers, but were not engaged in essential work.

ROSS COUNTY MAN WOUNDED IN ACTION

Corporal Donald Sweepston, Company H, 166th Infantry, Chillicothe, in the same battalion as Company M, of this city, was wounded in action in France March 5th, on the same date that a number of other Ohioans were killed and wounded while repulsing a vicious attack made by the German "storm troops" the pick of the German army.

Corporal Sweepston is a son of Sheriff Sweepston, of Ross county, and his injuries are said to be slight.

INTEREST GROWS IN SPECIAL SERVICES

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The interest is increasing in the meetings at the First Baptist church. Members and friends are backing up the work by loyal devotion. The chorus choir is an inspiration and is greatly enjoyed. They presented a pleasing special number last night.

The pastor preached with telling effect on the topic: "Helping Hands." Tonight the subject will be: "The Soul's Awakening." Song service from 7:30 to 7:45. All are cordially invited.

CHURCH OF CHRIST.

At the Church of Christ last night deep interest was manifested in the message of the evening—"A Model Example of Conversion," delivered by the pastor, Mr. Groves. The singing, always full of spirit, added to the spirit of devotion manifest. The interest in all of the meetings has been splendid, and is increasing nightly.

Wednesday afternoon baptismal ceremonies were carried out with three new converts receiving baptism.

Services tonight at 7:30, and Rev. A. C. Mattern, of New Holland, will deliver the sermon of the evening. He will be accompanied by a number of members of the New Holland Church of Christ. Special music and the public cordially invited.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

At the Presbyterian Church last evening a number of members were welcomed into the fellowship of the church at the conclusion of the service by the Session. A unique feature is that one of them came from the First Presbyterian Church of Jerusalem. Special music was most acceptably rendered by Mrs. Werter Shoop and Miss Mazie Kessler.

Dr. Horst's sermon was a graphic portrayal of the story of Cain and Able, abounding in telling anecdote, and striking situations, holding the audience in rapt attention to the close. The audiences are steadily increasing. The C. T. Sisterhood was present in a body, occupying the front of the church, and were introduced to the visiting minister by the pastor and Dr. Horst most happily responded.

The theme of the sermon this evening will be, "Redemption." There will be special music. The evening will be under the auspices of the Mary Boyd Hale Class.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH

Last night's attendance at Grace Methodist Church was the largest week night attendance since the meetings began.

Mrs. Rowe's large class attended in a body. The Home Guards and The Woman's Home Missionary Society will attend in a body tonight.

A good song service started the meeting well and at the close of the sermon Mr. Herron sang an effective solo.

It was Young People's night and the pastor's sermon theme was "Grind Your Ax in the Morning" the text being "My Son Give Me Thine Heart."

The pastor declared that prevention, preparation and opportunity are three words that belong to youth. Taking out the right kind of heart insurance, putting the premium upon righteousness, not delaying to reach for the highest and best, paying the price for victories that are worth while, and renewing every morning the struggle towards the right goal are vitally important.

THRILLING DRAMA AT THE PALACE

A little known chapter in American diplomacy and German intrigue is now being presented at the Palace in "The Spy," assuredly the strongest war picture of the kind, abounding with thrills and exciting situations.

The Secrets of the German spy system are amazingly revealed in this startling new William Fox production, with Dustin Farnum, one of the leading film stars, on the stellar role. A love story of absorbing interest, blends admirably with the heroic theme of the story.

Dustin Farnum plays the role of Mark Quaintance, New York club man and idler, who volunteers to undertake the perilous task of gaining a list of German spies in America. After many hair-raising and dramatic scenes, to which his naivete and good humor afford welcome contrast, he gains possession of a list of Teutonic spies in the United States, which is carried to the American Ambassador by his sweetheart.

The intricacies of diplomacy just before the American declaration of war are exposed in a wonderful manner and there is a full revelation of the most complete system of espionage which has ever existed. The ball at the American embassy in Berlin portrays the way intrigue is carried on under the guise of social entertainment, only one of the revelations portrayed with masterly skill in this drama of diplomacy.

"The Spy" is a play that all Americans want to see and will be shown for the last time tonight as it must be forwarded to another city for Friday.

FUGITIVE NABBED IN SPRINGFIELD

The long arm of the law was seen Wednesday when Sheriff James L. Welch learned that Herber Scott, wanted by Sheriff Henry Jones of Washington C. H. since October 1916, on a charge of burglary, was working at the Robbins and Myers factory, where he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff George T. Bredwell and County Detective John M. Powell.

After notifying the sheriff, that official journeyed to Springfield and took his prisoner back Wednesday afternoon.—Springfield Sun.

Scott, who formerly lived at Jeffersonville, was indicted in this county in 1915, according to court records, for breaking into and stealing certain rubber tires from the Straley garage in Jeffersonville, and since that time has been heard of in a number of adjoining cities, but always managed to elude the authorities.

The young man was brought to this city and landed in the county jail.

RUSSELL IS HELD TO THE GRAND JURY

Waiving examination to a charge of assault with intent to kill, filed against him by the woman who shot and seriously wounded him—Mrs. John Cherry—William Russell Thursday morning was held to the common pleas court and his bond fixed at $300.

Failing to furnish the bond he was returned to the county jail to await the giving of bond or action of the grand jury.

The Cherry woman, who is alleged to have shot Russell in the cheek, using a target rifle, as he was endeavoring to enter her home, presumably with a razor, has not been arrested, and so far as known, will not be disturbed. However, she was summoned to the Mayor's office and there told her story.

BARN DESTROYED HORSE IS BURNED

The barn on the Hugh Snyder farm, on the Greenfield pike, a few miles south of this city, was completely destroyed by fire this week, and one horse was burned to death. Mr. Mose Merritt is a tenant on the farm and lost heavily.

Fred Merritt, son of Mr. Merritt, made a heroic effort to lead the horse from the burning building, and desisted only after his hair had been scorched by the flames and he was in imminent danger of perishing with the horse.

Everything in the barn was destroyed with the building.

Private Quigley, an Englishman by birth, has spent most of his life in this country. He enlisted with the Canadians and fought in some of the most bitter engagements of the war. He has a message of absorbing interest.

DARING PEARL WHITE AND ANTONIO MORENO IN A NEW SERIAL

Beautiful, blonde, daring Pearl White with handsome dark, daring Antonio Moreno in a big new serial photoplay.

That is the promise held out to film fans in the announcement that they will be presented here by Pathe in "The House of Hate," a timely and interesting mystery story dealing with America's great munitions factory. Manager Smith of the Palace Theatre is negotiating for a booking on this big serial.

Here are the telegraphic facts: Written by Charles A. Longue and Arthur B. Reeve, creator of the widely read "Craig Kennedy" stories. Scenario by Bertram Milhauser, the young man who went "over the top" with Miss White's fast success, "The Fatal Ring."

Produced by the same company that made "The Fatal Ring," Astra Film Corporation. And the same director, George B. Seitz, known as the George M. Cohan of motion pictures.

A dispatch from New York carries the news that Pathe's increased activities in the feature field, as illustrated by the announcement of Pathe Plays, starring Fannie Ward, Frank Keenan, Antonio Moreno and Dorinda, Bessie Love, Bryant Washburn and Irene Castle, is to be accompanied by a corresponding increase in serial producing facilities and that four serials are already under way, the first of which being "The House of Hate."

It is stated on the highest authority that this continued photoplay will be the biggest that Pathe—The House of Successful Serials—has ever done and it is to be the forerunner of an unprecedented serial program.

The cast of "The House of Hate" in addition to Miss White and Mr. Moreno includes Paul Clerget, the famous French pantomimist, and J. H. Gilmore, the well-known character actor, and Peggy Shaynor who is said to reveal a new type of screen vampire.

"The House of Hate" is a picture of thrills and mystery, revolving around the attempt of an awe-inspiring and unknown person, to destroy Pearl Walton, heir to the Waldon Munitions Factory and hers to defend herself against him. Starts at The Palace, Saturday, March 23. Advt.

The Food Administration

In view of the fact that the National Food Administration, adhering to its policy not to answer the wild charges of irresponsible and unadvised fault-finders, has seen fit to forego any formal refutation of the charges made some weeks ago in congress of "excessive expenditure," it is not amiss to volunteer a few statements of fact.

It should be, and is unnecessary so far as the great majority of people is concerned, to waste any time in explaining just how the food commission operates, but there are a few who, thoughtlessly lend ear to the sensational charges.

The National Food Administration, with all its state and local branches, is busy, is going straight ahead putting across the great work of conservation.

The national, state and local food administrators not only serve without a single penny of compensation, but are frequently called upon to make many small expenditures out of their own pockets.

They are, all of them, volunteers in the service of the nation and are too busy with real work to consume time in defending themselves against foolish charges.

There are, as a matter of course, so far as the national organization is concerned and so far as the state organizations, and the larger city organizations are concerned, certain items of expense such as heat, light, stationery, stamps, stenographers, clerks, accountants and the like which must be paid. That requires money and a considerable sum of money too, because if we will but stop to think, it requires a tremendous organization to conserve and distribute the food supply for this nation and for our allies (that's what it amounts to) and at the same time to protect the nation and the people from unscrupulous profiteers and pirates.

The men who plan and execute are volunteers. The national commission controls all expenditures and has carefully guarded against not only intentional extravagance, but against any expenditure by irresponsibles.

The local and state commissions are powerless to incur expense except they pay it out of their own pockets.

Only a few days ago a member of the local commission was requested to get feed here for cattle. He got the relief but was compelled to pay telephone charges himself.

That's one instance which shows how this work is done. There are scores of such instances which might be mentioned but if it is necessary to cite any certainly one will suffice.

People should devote all their energy toward co-operating with and assisting these volunteers in the tremendously important work of food conservation. To repeat, or to heed even, groundless charges, is not only unjust to the men who are giving their services to the nation, but it hampers a vital war work and is unpatriotic.

We must follow the example of the food administration, march along with the army of working patriots content to do our part and turn a deaf ear to the ridiculous charges of excessive expenditures. There is not, and cannot be any such thing.

Wanted, A Firing Squad

We agree entirely with the assertion of Governor Cox in his speech at Columbus Tuesday, that we must have, in this country a firing squad to deal with traitors and spies, and we are also inclined to think that the Governor's prediction that that much needed assistant to our army and navy and stimulant to patriotism will be an established and working institution doing a great good and rendering a much needed service very soon.

The American people have been entirely too lenient in dealing with traitors and spies and the loss and suffering and death sustained through their operations have, it seems, at last forced realization of the stern facts.

Not only is the out and out disloyal citizen to be dealt with as his conduct deserves but, the "whispering traitor" the most dangerous of all, is to be hunted out and brought to justice.

The higher ideals of government, the kindly impulses of humanity are unknown to the human reptiles who betray their nation.

The firing squad is the only means to reach them. Fear of consequences, certain to follow is the only deterrent. Appeals to loyalty, to a higher sense, to duty, to humanity are lost on the traitors and the spies. They possess neither loyalty nor sense of duty, nor human impulses. They must be dealt with as they are if their villainous work is to be ended.

Poetry For Today

TIDE O' THE YEAR

Bold is the wind and the leaves beat down
Crumpled and wrinkled and sere and brown
Cold is the night; and the tall trees quake,
Quiver and shiver and sorrowfully shake;
And the leaves seep down
Wrinkled and brown.

White is the night and the clouds hang low,
Far are the stars, and the snowflakes blow,
Shrouding the trees that drearily file
Crashing and gaunt down the forest aisle;
And the leaves lie low,
Under the snow.

Out of the reek of the sodden heap,
Up through the roots of the trees asleep
Surges and riots and flames a breath,
Soul of the Spring that shall rise from death
With the leaf-buds' sheen
Swelling fair and green.

Buried deep neath a pall of snow
Slumbers a Hope that yet shall know
Perfect fulfillment—sunlit hours
Vocal with birds' songs, sweet with flowers,
When the leaves begin
Their hymn to Spring!
—Gertrude Robinson, in The People's Home Journal.

HOW JOE FOUND HIMSELF

CHAPTER TWELVE

The train that had brought them from their camp had stopped in some remote freight yards near where their ship was waiting for them.

"Now boys, no loud talking as we march to the boat," the officers told them. There were no lights as they stumbled over the tracks in the darkness. As they marched up the gang-plank one boy spoke to another and wanted to bat even money that the other fellow would be seasick before he was, but he was silenced before the bet could be completed. They kept marching aboard, company after company, until Joe wondered how any one ship could carry so many. But there was plenty of room for them all. With a final warning from the officers that not a single head was to be seen on deck until the order came that it was all right, the big ship slowly slid away from the dock out into the stream. Joe stood by a port hole and watched the lights of the city slowly fade into the distance as the transport churned her way out in to the open sea.

"By golly, this old country sure is worth fighting for," Joe muttered to himself as he turned away and started for his bunk. As he was taking off his shoes he added, "and only if those muts who only look upon this war for the profit there is in it were aboard this old packet tonight it might do them good."

In Joe's first letter to Irma he told her among other things, "because I was able to take a machine gun apart and do it better and quicker than the rest, I was promoted from a corporal to a sergeant. But I guess they didn't know I had been studying those things in camp when the other fellows were not."

A certain little lady in Joe's home town tenderly kissed the letter as her eyes filled up with tears.

Social and Personal

Although the engagement of Miss Lieutenant Fred E. Hall and Miss Xenna Lee Hammer, of Newark, was announced some time ago, the fact that the young couple were quietly married on the first of March, comes as a surprise to the many friends of the bridegroom in this city. The announcement was only given out on Wednesday of this week, when Lt. Hall brought his bride down from Columbus for a few days' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Hall.

The ceremony was performed at six o'clock Friday evening, March the first, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Calvin G. Hazlett, of the First Presbyterian Church, of Newark. The ring ceremony of the Presbyterian Church was used.

Lt. Hall was graduated from the medical department of the Ohio State university, last June and shortly after received the appointment of intern of the Springfield City Hospital.

Last September he enlisted for service and was commissioned First Lieutenant U. S. Medical Reserve Corps.

His bride is a very beautiful girl, who made a most favorable impression during visits at the Hall home subsequent to the announcement of the engagement.

Lt. Hall possesses a most likable personality which has made him popular in both home and college circles and congratulations are being extended from friends galore.

Since their marriage Lt. and Mrs. Hall have been residing at 236 Oakland Avenue, Columbus. Lt. Hall expects to be called out before April first.

Mrs. Calvin Holmes hospitably threw open her home Wednesday afternoon for the March meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church. Assisting hostesses for the day were Mesdames Clarence Baer, Myrtle McCrea, Thos. Pinkerton, Barrett, Roy Thompson, Laure O'Farrell, C. E. Page, J. W. Duffee, Jesse Hyer, Neil B. Jones, A. J. Walker, J. J. Zimmerman, Lon Thompson, Chas. Krepps, John Bryant, Walter Girard, Misses Rilla Coffman and Ethel Mace.

Over fifty women attended and the afternoon was of much interest and also social pleasure.

During the opening business session presided over by the president, Mrs. Austin P. Hopkins, delegates and alternates were appointed to the spring meeting of Chillicothe Presbyterial, to be held in South Salem, April 11th, and 12th.

The delegates were Mesdames J. A. Walker, B. E. Leland, Arthur Leland, John Wilson; alternates, Mesdames Fritz Meier, Wm. R. Smith, J. N. Willson, W. P. Barnes.

Mrs. Thomas Grove was leader for the day's program.

Mrs. Harry E. Sprenger presented the Home subject: "Immigration," in an exceptionally fine paper, giving large information concerning this immense subject, classified, "Immigration—An Asset or a Menace."

As this phase has been discussed for years with no decision, Mrs. Sprenger said she made no attempt to settle the question.

In speaking of the fact that the immigrant always has and always will be with us, she said the Protestant churches owed it to him to see that he became part of the national life and policy and was not left, in his ignorance, to profiteers and corrupt politicians.

"The Immigration Guide and Transfer Association" was formed in 1910 to work with the "Protestant Committee" to see that foreigners when reaching these shores, are taken care of and protected from rascals.

An argument against admitting foreigners to this country has been that they lower the wage rate. Statistics show that in communities where there is a large foreign population the rates are higher than where Americans predominate. This is due to the greater influence exercised over foreigners, often illiterate, by union leaders and the fact that their ignorance makes them easy tools. Similar conditions exist in slums and dens of large cities.

Mrs. Sprenger made the astonishing statement that 100,000 Americans have taken up the Hindu religion and there are 74 magnificent Buddhist temples, none costing less than $100,000, in leading cities of this country. In a Chicago temple there is a High Priestess, whose father was a Presbyterian deacon in New York before he became a proselyte to the worship of the Sun God. At Point Loma, California, a hundred young people are being taught in a Buddhist training school.

The foreign subject: "Japan" was ably presented by Mrs. Wm. Boynton Gage, and of much interest among special facts called to the attention of the writer noted that Japan has desired to be liked by the United States. It has put on much of its life and activity. It has striven to imitate its business activities and scientific alertness. It has built up its army and navy, its schools and colleges, its social and state institutions, with our country as its model. For a time it was thought it would put on our religious life, in its desire to have the external benefits of Christian civilization. But it is not so promising in this direction as it bade fair to be a few years ago.

But the most of the people want to cling to their old heathen religions, or to have no real religion at all, while they grasp at the external forms and advantages of our civilization. But the earnest work of missions goes on.

Miss Christine Meiers gave much pleasure in two well given readings.

Light refreshments were served after the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nisley entertained Dr. and Mrs. Glen Nisley, whose wedding took place Tuesday evening, with a six o'clock dinner at their home at Seldon Wednesday evening.

Later in the evening fifty of the neighbors gathered and gave the young couple an old fashioned bell ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Nisley handed out cigars and fruit and the evening was a merry one. Dr. and Mrs. Nisley left Thursday morning for a short stay in Cincinnati.

The Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Huldah Parrett, on East Market street, Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Pearl Darlington in charge.

In the business session the society voted to support a French child for a year and to contribute $2.00 to the campaign fund.

Mrs. Frank E. Haines presented a biographical sketch of Lillian Stevens and Mrs. Anna Hardway created of the Lillian Stevens' campaign fund.

Mrs. Dulcie Elliott discussed "The Tale of Two Papers."

The hostess served dainty refreshments and the members lingered to enjoy a social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sheets and two children are now occupying their new bungalow on Main street. It is one of the handsomest bungalows erected in this city, most effectively designed in press brick, with tile roof and porches. There are ten rooms and two baths, with complete modern equipment throughout. The immense living room, with big brick fire place and built in bookcases, is especially attractive. A large billiard room occupies half of the second floor.

Mr. George Davier, who was recently operated upon at his home in New Martinsburg, is slowly recovering.

Miss Esther Ward has returned to her home in Ashville, O., after a visit of several days with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Shissler.

AMERICANS DECORATED BY MIKADO

The Emperor of Japan has conferred decorations of exclusive imperial orders upon four Americans who have been active in war work for the Allies, according to an announcement by C. Yada, the Japanese Consul at New York. The chief distinction goes to ex-Mayor of New York John P. Mitchell, who has been designated for the Third Order of the Rising Sun with cordon. Judge Elbert Gary, of New York, has been designated for the Order of the Sacred Treasure. The other two Americans to be decorated are ex-Mayor Cory of Boston, named for the Third Order of the Rising Sun, and Mayor Burdick, of Newport, who received the Third Order of the Sacred Treasure. It is said the Japanese Emperor deeply appreciated the work done for the cause of the Allies by the men on whom he has conferred honors. As the decoration of ex-Mayor Mitchell was conferred before he entered the army, in which he is now a major he may accept it without violating military regulations.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

The added need of hospital supplies for American soldiers in France was increasingly brought home to Washington C. H. women this morning by dispatches indicating that the preparatory attack for the German offensive is now on.

As a result more helpers are sought for Red Cross work, for the need for hospital supplies will, at the best, be tremendous.

Every woman should feel the necessity for response.
A CALL TO THE COLORS
The Surgical Dressings' classes need more workers. There is no greater call to the colors than that of making surgical dressings for our men in time for them to reach the hospitals for use in this oncoming spring drive.

The facilities and the materials are ready and it is most important that surgical dressings' classes be filled up. Twenty four can work at the tables at one time and to fill this quota 12 or 15 more women are needed.

It is not hard work, as some think, although particular, but even if it were hard women should be as ready to meet this call as the boys at the front are willing to engage in the combat which makes surgical dressings necessary.

Nor is it necessary that women take the entire course. It will be a big help to have them work part of the time, if only one afternoon a week. All that is needed for equipment is a large apron to cover the clothes and some kind of head covering.

The surgical dressings classes meet Monday, Tuesday and Thursday any willing to assist will kindly call Miss Edith Gardner, chairman, or the headquarters, in Y. M. C. A. annex.

"TOP" SERGEANT OF CO. M. WRITES OF LIFE OVERSEAS

General Pershing Passes Through Room as He is Writing—Expects Activity and Declares Allies Will Win the War Regardless of Time Required to Do It.

The accompanying letter written by Forrest Smith, First ("toy") Sergeant of Company M, 166th Infantry, to his sister, is of more than ordinary interest.

Sergeant Smith, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith, of near Yatesville, has completed his period in the officers training school in France, and rejoined his company.

Sergeant Smith is sending a certain amount home to his sister, each month to be invested in War Savings stamps. His letter follows:

U. S. Army School,
A. E. F., France.

Dear sister:
Feel considerably like answering your letters this eve as I just received your box containing the tobacco, and my favorite kind, too.

The mail service seems much better of late for the mail comes through in record time now. I received your last letter dated Jan. 9th on Jan. 28th so you see that is very good time. I have never received the papers yet, but expect them any time now. Several of the fellows get papers from the states, but they don't answer the purpose like those from home.

We have had remarkable weather here for the past month, much different from what you have been experiencing from all reports. It is almost as mild as at El Paso last winter. We are fortunate as fuel is very scarce in this country. The French say the winter is a very unusual one and entirely out of the ordinary. Hope we do not experience any more severe cold, as it would go pretty hard with us now.

I haven't a great amount of time left here at the school. It is supposed to last three months so I expect I'll be back with the outfit by the time you get this letter. I rather hate to leave here now as I have become acquainted with the fellows and with the instructors. Soldiering would not be bad at all if one could always stay in a company like this, all good fellows and with good instructors over you.

Several of the boys from the company were in Sunday. The epidemic of mumps, measles, etc., which started in the company at Camp Perry has about run its course and they are all looking fine now. They also have been learning fast and are almost real soldiers now. Can notice a very marked difference now than when I left them at Melignyle Petite.

I guess it makes no difference to mention the place where we were first located as the War Department has given our sector to the public. We were well within the Verdun sector. The rumble of the guns was plainly audible at all times. They will be going back up in that sector before long, as the division is scheduled for the front early in the spring.

Sunday two weeks ago when I was where the company is, they had just received gas masks. You would have died laughing to have seen John Elars try to keep his on. He put it on with a chew of tobacco in his mouth and you should have seen him claw to get it off. John thinks this is no gentleman's war when men have to wear such instruments of torture.

I suspect dad would be interested in some of their farming methods. As far as I have been able to observe, there is little system or method in their mode of agriculture. I should think that in such a populous country, that all the available land would be cultivated; but far from it. There is as much waste land as cultivated.

However the average French peasant raises enough for himself and family and does not depend on purchasing much aside from wearing apparel and the like. In the states one buys nearly everything and thinks that he couldn't get along otherwise. All here live in small villages and never on their farms. Sometimes they go several miles to them.

Each village has its mill where they grind their own flour after threshing it out on the barn floor by horse power. None of the inhabitants could exist seemingly with out their red wine, which besides being red is very sour. The average "Amex" soldier does not care much for their wine.

The people are very short of horse power as the war has absorbed all their best horses. I imagine the U. S. will be a great purchasing field for France and England after the war. The average French farmer would rather pay 1000 to 1500 francs ($200 to $300) for horses than to own a petrol eating tractor or truck as gasoline is very expensive here. The French government will probably have to do their purchasing and selling on long time payments, so if I were bad I don't know as I would quit the horse business as he has been contemplating.

This is Friday p. m. and General Pershing and his staff just passed through this room. In my hurry to come to attention I swallowed my pencil.

One thing France surpasses us on is their roads. But there are several reasons for this. The y are not as numerous as ours, traffic is not so heavy, they have an abundance of material for road building and their system of keeping them in repair is better. One man unusually old and unable to work has a certain amount, about 2 kilometers to keep in repair, consequently they never need rebuilding.

The evening papers have just come in telling of the loss of the Tuscania. Well this war is not over yet, neither is it won, but it is going to be, if it takes two years or five. Dissention at home among politicians may cost American lives, but it will not affect the final result.

The evening mail is just in, and I got that bundle of papers. The story of "The girl who was a soldier boy" is known all over France. Also it is true.

Will close. Address me as with the company.

FORREST SMITH,
1st Sgt., M. Co., 166th Infantry
A. E. F., France.

PARTITION SUIT OVER GOOCH ESTATE

In the common pleas court J. M. Beatty represented by Hidy & Sander-son, has filed action for the partition of the estate of the late Anna Moore Gooch.

Moore, David Moore, Edward Moore, Lizzie LeMar, Anne Myers, Sarah Almada Waples, Roy Waples, Floyd Waples, Isaac Waples, Wm. Waples, Kate Shelpman, Wm. Moore, Allen F. Moore, Nathaniel Moore, Maggie McMullen, Laura Bargeand, Jessie W. Yazell.

The plaintiff states that he is a nephew and entitled to one-sixteenth part of the estate, while the defendants are entitled to portions ranging from one-sixteenth to one-fourth-eighth part.

GLAZE LOT CHOSEN FOR CANNING PLANT

The Glaze lot adjoining the stockyards in Jeffersonville has been chosen and purchased by H. M. Crites of Circleville as the location of the new canning plant to be erected in Jeffersonville during the next few months.

The Glaze lot adjoins the D. T. & I. railroad and is believed to be the ideal location for the plant. A representative of Mr. Crites is now in Chicago buying machinery and equipment for the plant, and it will be erected and equipped without delay so that it will be ready for use when wanted. The plant will be almost as large as either of those in this city.

AMUNITION PLANT SAID TO BE CERTAIN

Plans for the big ammunition plant to be located in the vicinity of Blanche-ster are moving forward.

Representatives of big California interests have conferred with the gas company at Cincinnati concerning fuel and power.

LOOKS LIKE DRY

Columbus, March 21.—Ohio dries may have a proposal of their own relative to referendums on actions of the general assembly on amendments to the federal constitution. Wets are circulating a petition for a popular referendum on legislative ratification of federal amendments, like the prohibition amendment.

Dry leaders say they are considering going the wets one better by initiating an amendment, providing that not only in case of ratification, but also in case of voting down ratifications, action of the legislature shall be subject to referendum. It is pointed out that dry workers could circulate a petition along with their regular prohibition petition.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure active, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel, as efforts to banish it brought out these olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why are the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "biliousness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

of her heirs' land, and after her death her heirs to have possession."

"At the death of David Garinger, Samantha Hendrickson took possession of the estate embraced in the item quoted.

"During the life time of Samantha Hendrickson, Simeon Garinger purchased and obtained a conveyance of the interests of the other children and issue of Samantha Hendrickson. Subsequent to the death of Samantha Hendrickson certain of the issue of Samantha Garinger claim an interest upon said lands upon the theory that the devise to the heirs of the body of Samantha Hendrickson did not vest until after her death.

"Briefly stated the question is whether the devise contained in the will of Simeon Garinger to the heirs of the body of his daughter Samantha became a vested estate upon the death of said testator.

"The case has been fully argued by counsel by the respective parties and also an exhaustive opinion submitted by Judge Carpenter.

"We have reached the conclusion that the term 'heirs of the body of my daughter Samantha Hendrickson,' as used in the item quoted means children of their issue and the estate vested upon the death of the testator.

"This view is fully discussed and the authorities fully reviewed in the decision of Judge Carpenter above referred to. We are in accordance with the reasoning and conclusions of his decision. Decree accordingly.

John Logan, attorney for plaintiff. Post & Reid attorneys for defendant."
